CAROLINA TIMES.

H. P. WARRING, Editor.

CHARLOTTE.

Saturday, September 4, 1869.

THE SENATE.—In regard to the nomination for the Senate, we regret to state that the Hon. Joseph H. Wilson, H. W. Guion, W. J. Yates, R. P. Waring, and Dr. J. M. Strong, and others, whose names have been mentioned in connection with the candidacy for the Senate, are barred. However much their respective friends might wish to press their claims, to do so would be as unwise as it would be useless. The Conservatives must nominate a candidate, who can not only secure the vote, but when elected take his seat without opposition, and the Times and News will cordially support whoever the Convention may put forward.

"But the majority of great men have never come from South of Mason's and Dixon's line." This sentence occurs in a long editorial in the Newbern Times, in reply to one we wrote recently on Immigration, and could only have been written by one who was educated North of the line. What an interesting question the discussion of the two civilizations might make. Taking the settlement of Jamestown, and tracing the high-toned, high-spirited, chivalrous cavalier, as he impresses himself on the history of Virginia, and of the South as an example, and the colony at Plymouth Rock, as it developed and spread through New England, tracing the one down through the vesta of history to the representative men of the present day, culminating in Lee, and Stonewall Jackson on the one hand, and Grant and Sherman on the other; can any disinterested mind hesitate to decide between the two? Virginia to-day, in her ruin and desolation, is grander in the eyes of the world when compared with Massachusetts than was Greece in her palmy days, to the wealthy and effete Persian.

We do not desire to take one particle from the enterprise of Yankeeedom, which has built free schools, manufactures, established commerce, and culminated in a wonderful accretion of material wealth. But we doubt whether this is the sole object of man's existence. Does any one believe that Charles Sumner could have been born of Virginia parents, on Virginia soil, or that such a monstrosity as Mrs. Stowe could have seen light elsewhere than in New England? As there is light without heat, so there is civilization without improvement, and can we be blamed for keeping out those who might by chance, however remote, produce similar monsters upon the soil of North Carolina.

"But the majority of great men were not born South of Mason and Dixon's line." We are surprised that so shrewd a paper as the Newbern Times should write such a sentence as this, away, school boys know better. Look at the colonial army, colonial Congress, Constitutional Convention, the Presidential office, the diplomatic corps, the old government up to the break-out of the war, and see who filled the distinguished places in the eye of the nation and of the world. The Yankees—we mean no disrespect in the application of the term—are a money-making, money loving, common school creating, cheap education, animal and glories in shoddy, while the true Southern of the older type cultivates the mind, improves the manners, and is rather a money-spending, and consequently a poor gentleman, but full of intellect refinement and culture.

Hence, we do not desire to change our whole system to benefit a few, for by opening the flood-gates of immigration, we necessitate the change and by breaking up the large landed estates destroy our individual characteristics.

The following from the Wilmington Journal, one of the most able and dignified papers in the State, expresses the same sentiments that was thrown out in the Times before the Township elections. It is the true doctrine and we reaffirm our adhesion to it:

"A few days ago we indicated that this paper would, under no circumstances, consent to an affiliation with any party which can accept for its exponents of its principles and as its leaders such men as now hold the political offices of high position in North Carolina. We will say also, judicial offices, for they have become as much partisan spoils as any others in the State. Without discussing the other characteristics which mark these individuals, they have uniformly exhibited persistency of action with unwavering purpose to the one object—self-interest. Can any honest man, any thinking man, can even any bad man, trust those who work only for place and themselves? Take the record of the political acrobats of this State, from highest to lowest, and self-interest marks every act. High ambition, patriotic aspirations, noble philanthropy, are unknown in their vocabulary, and unfelt in their cold, spiritless, selfish hearts. North Carolinians, cast from you with scorn these creatures, who, devoid of principle themselves, would make you the wretched tools for their own aggrandizement. Will North Carolinians who have been represented by such pure and noble specimens of men as Macon, Mangum, Badger, Ruffin and Graham now retain in their places Holden, Abbott, Pearson and Pool, living libels upon what the former embodied in person and principle? The spirits of the dead and the voices and hearts of the living cry an eternal no."

GREAT FIRE IN THE DISMAL SWAMP.

The following has been received from Richmond: A destructive conflagration is raging in the Dismal Swamp in this State, the origin being accidental. Miles of fencing, cord wood and other property are being destroyed. The area of the conflagration is confined to the territory between the Norfolk and Petersburg Railroad and the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, about eight miles from Norfolk, and the passing trains are exposed to such an extent that the doors and windows are tightly secured to prevent injury to the passengers. Swamp cattle, black bears and all sorts of wild game are being driven from the Swamp, and the farmers are securing large quantities. The vicinity of new fibre factories on the verge of the Swamp is particularly endangered. The conflagrations occur frequently during severe dry spells, but on this occasion the fire is unprecedently destructive.

DESTRUCTIVE CONFLAGRATION AT CAPE MAY—Additional Particulars.

CAPE MAY, August 31, 1869. The fire commenced in the Japanese store, occupied by a celebrated pearl-diver, and spread to the post-office, and thence to the United States Hotel. All the buildings on Washington street to Ocean were soon destroyed. The fire extended along Washington street to American Row, the Atlantic Hotel, Elmsker's Hotel, Koenig's saloon, Huffman's drug-store, and Proskauer's restaurant. Everything was destroyed from Ocean street on the east to Jackson street on the west, and from Washington street on the north to the beach on the south, except the Columbian Hotel, which was saved by the admirable arrangements made for preservation against fire.

The hose attached to the fire department at Congress Hall was brought into use when the flames reached Jackson street, and by it the Centre and Ocean Houses were saved. La Pierre House was saved by tearing up the carpets, wetting them, and spreading them on the roof. A row of buildings on Washington street opposite the old American House stores was damaged by water, and some of them torn down. The loss is estimated at $175,000. The United States Hotel was sold last week by its (then) owner to Charles Conway, of Philadelphia, for $80,000. Steam fire-engines were sent down on a train from Camden.

The Philadelphia Telegraph says: The principal building destroyed was the United States Hotel, of which Mr. Aaron Miller is the landlord. It ranked as the fourth hotel on the island in the way of patronage, having accommodated about 2,500 different guests during the past season. There was an insurance of $5,000 on the building and of $2,000 on the furniture, but it is impossible to tell at this writing what proportion of the loss sustained will be covered by these amounts.

The new Atlantic Hotel, at the head of which some member of the McKim family has been for so many years, ranked next after the United States, its patronage during the past summer having approximated 2,000 guests.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.—We mentioned, yesterday, that this Institution was full to its utmost capacity. On Wednesday a patient was brought from Caswell County, and was refused admission for want of room. Public notice has been repeatedly given on this subject in the papers, and circulars sent to County officers of every county in the State, notifying them that it is useless to send patients to the Asylum without first writing to the Superintendent to ascertain that there is room for them. —Sentinel.

An Englishman who has invented a new life saving apparatus wishes to be dropped in mid channel between England and France and to be left to his own resources. The Pall Mall Gazette remarks: "Considering the trouble these inventions invariably give, and how seldom they turn out to be of any practical use, it might be as well to make an example for once, and let this gentleman have his own way."

Special to the Baltimore Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1, 1869. Among those who had interviews with the President to-day, were Messrs. Stokes and Brownlow (son of Governor Brownlow), of Tennessee, J. J. Noah, late internal revenue supervisor for Tennessee, Governor Walker, of Virginia, and Messrs. Barziza and Ochiltree, of Texas.

It is reported that the President sent word that he would see Messrs. Stokes, Brownlow and Noah at the same time; but that Mr. Brownlow declared that "Stokes would go to lying about the old man, and he should certainly get up and lick him like a dog," and he wouldn't go in with him. And he didn't.

Messrs. Barziza and Ochiltree called to see if they couldn't get the prisoners held by the military at Jefferson, Texas, placed on the same footing as Colonel Yerger, of Mississippi, and they are confident of the success of their mission. They were furnished with a recommendation to the Attorney General (who is not in the city at present) to look into the matter. Y.

Letter from Washington.

Correspondence of the Baltimore Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1, 1869.

If any confidence could be placed in the implied promises of Congress, or the express word of the Executive, or the solemn compact of the states, the remaining unrepresented States of the South might yet get along some how, perhaps, in patching up a "reconstruction," with an admission of a parcel of carpet-beggars as nominal representatives. But experience (dearly bought) shows conclusively that no reliance whatever is to be placed upon the assurances of such men. How many systems have Congress instituted, merely to mock their victims when they have hesitated, in good faith, to accept them! The conduct of the Administration in respect to the three totally unrepresented States has been simply shameful. And Georgia, notwithstanding her sacrifices and humiliations, is still substantially "out of the Union," and Tennessee is at this moment on her knees begging to be let alone, in consideration of a complete surrender to Federal dictation.

North and South Carolina, Florida, Louisiana, Arkansas and Alabama have been "reconstructed"—according to the only principle allowable under Radical rule—that of full control by the negroes, led by a handful of Northern vagabonds. Virginia, Mississippi and Texas will never be permitted to enter the Union. It is made as plain as noonday that (like the States just named) her ruling powers are permanently linked to the car of the merciless oppressors of the Southern whites—and the latter are required voluntarily to forge their own manacles.

The latest contrivance is to induce the representatives in the Virginia Legislature (all who deserve the name) to resign. A promise is said to have been made by the satrap Canby that he will immediately order new elections! Pray, what guarantee can be give of carrying out this compact? He may be transferred to-morrow.

But even admitting that new men are to be authorized by somebody to be elected; and suppose, further, that they could "take the oath?" What other monstrous invention and tyranny may not be expected? The people of that State may rest assured that unless the "new men" shall prove to be real, bona fide Radicals of the acceptable stripe, the whole of the refractory members will, on some pretence or other, be kicked out of the Assembly with as little ceremony as Cromwell disposed of the Rump Parliament! What is wanted by the Radicals is the unbroken vote of the South. Nothing less will satisfy them. "Now, cousin, dost thou understand me?"

The President returns to the North this evening, with the members of his Cabinet who accompanied him on his brief visit. Mr. Rawlin will remain in town. I have the best authority for saying that the official business transacted by these dignitaries was confined to signing appointments.

The offer of the Government to buy Cuba, it seems, has not been rejected by the Spanish authorities, at least so far as the Administration is advised. It is authoritatively announced this morning that the despatch telegraphed from this city to the New York Evening Post on Monday, stating that Spain had rejected the overtures that Minister Sickles was directed to present for the settlement of the Cuban difficulty, is pronounced by the President, the Secretary of State, and Mr. Lemur, the accredited agent of the Cubans, to be untrue in every particular.

I learn that Treasurer Spinner has prepared a circular, to be addressed to the cashiers of the National Banks that have failed to comply with the law requiring them to make semi-annual returns of the dutiable amount of circulating notes, deposits and capital, and reminding them of the penalty for default in making this return.

An old woman who went into the poultry business some time since under the expectation that she could make a fortune by selling eggs, has quitted it in disgust, because, as she says, "The hens 'll never lay when eggs are dear, but always begin as soon as they get cheap."

WHISKEY ADVANCING.—The price of whiskey is steadily advancing in all the leading markets in the country, in consequence chiefly of a general suspension of distilleries in all parts of the country. Under the present revenue laws the manufacture and sale of whiskey is a complicated business. The distiller is first required to give heavy bonds that he will fulfill all the requirements of the law, and the law makes his distillery and property a forfeit to the Government in case he should violate any one of the conditions; then it takes him on a supposed capacity, and makes him pay a tax whether he makes the amount of whiskey or not; then it taxes him two dollars a day for something else; then one dollar per barrel for another something, then fifty cents per gallon for the main tax; then it provides him a gauger, whom he must pay, whose duty it is to stamp the barrels; then a storekeeper, whom he must pay; to take charge of the whiskey; then he must buy a Tice meter to measure it, and at last—stamped, marked and gauged—it is shipped into market under charge of the Government. Hedged around with all these taxes and restrictions, it is not to be wondered at that there are many violations of the revenue laws, both voluntary and involuntary. The wonder is, perhaps, that any person with honest intentions of a sense of justice should enter into the manufacture at all. —Rich. Whig.

The following advertisement is from a recent New York paper: "If you want a really pure, unsophisticated 'family pill' buy Dr. R.'s liver-cleansing, kidney-purifying, silent perambulator—twenty-seven in a box. This pill is as mild as a pet lamb, and as searching as a snail-tooth comb. It don't go fooling about; but attends strictly to business, and is as certain as an alarm clock."

Considerable interest is felt on the subject of religion in our town just now. A revival has been going on in the Methodist Church during the past week, and a goodly number have professed faith in the saving power of Christ. More than a score have joined that Church. God speed the good work. —Vindicator.

Sulphuret of carbon is said to be an excellent remedy against the headache, especially when it is of a neuralgic or nervous character. It is used by placing a wad of cotton saturated with this material in a bottle, and applying its open mouth to the temple or part affected. The prickling sensation which is at first experienced is soon followed by relief from the pain.

NO BETTER.—The health of Ex-Governor Worth is very feeble. His physicians do not allow him to see much company.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A book by General Lee will awaken such special interest, that we are glad to call attention to it. The UNIVERSITY PUBLISHING COMPANY of No. 4 Bond Street, New York, announce that they have now in press, and will issue in a few weeks, "Memoirs of the War," by Gen. Henry Lee, thoroughly revised and corrected by Gen. R. E. Lee who has added, also, an entirely new biography of his father, prepared by him from private and personal materials never before used. It will be a large and handsome octavo volume, illustrated by new steel portraits of Gen. Henry Lee and Gen. Nathaniel Greene; beautiful steel engravings of "Marion Crossing the Pedee," and the "Surrender of Cornwallis," and five original maps and plans. Our readers need not be told that this is a work of great interest and value. It is the standard history of military operations at the South during the revolutionary war, and as such is a book which every reading man should possess; but its interest and value are both greatly increased by Gen. Robert E. Lee's thorough revision and correction, and by the valuable biography of his father which he has written and added to it.

We are sure that this announcement, alone, is sufficient to give the book a very great sale, but when we add that Gen. Lee is personally interested in its publication, such a sale is made certain.

As we learn that the book is to be sold by canvassing agents only, those who desire to engage in its sale should make early application to the publishers.

A Regular Habit of Body.

Absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of persons cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the effluvia of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants, such as an unpleasant breath, a swollen skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a nerve, or a blood purifier, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It leads activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, greatly stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to those characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is as harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker as with the stronger.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label, with our steel engraved reticene stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

PAIN KILLER FOR CHOLERA AND BOWEL COMPLAINTS.

For Boils, Cuts, Bruises, Bumps and Scalds, All Sores, Sprains, Swelling of the Joints, Toothache, Pain in the Face, Neuralgia and Rheumatism, Frosted Feet, Felons.

Sore Throat, Sudden Colds, Coughs, &c.

Use it for any of these, and you will never do without it. Its success as a valuable family medicine has induced others to imitate and counterfeit the Pain Killer to a great extent.

Beware of Counterfeits.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

At the solicitation of many citizens, we announce that a convention to nominate a successor to the late Judge Jas. W. Osborne in the Senate, will be held in the Court House in this city, on Tuesday the 14th inst., at 11 o'clock. Each Township is earnestly requested to hold a meeting and send delegates. The Republicans are thoroughly drilled and will bring out their strongest man. The Conservatives must act wisely and judiciously in making their choice, and to do so a full meeting is necessary.

We dropped in at E. M. Holt & Co's new store yesterday, and was positively shown through by Col. L. S. Williams, Agent, chief business man of the firm. The room is large, handsome and well built, and we noticed that none of the goods are placed upon the floor but up on small low counters, which keeps them cool, salt, &c. dry. The basement is used principally for heavy groceries. The grain is stored above, and so arranged that the bags are filled below, without the least trouble, along side of the whole store room is a cotton platform, underneath which is an immense cistern (and wood house) from which every room in the house is supplied with water, and also, affords a supply in case of fire. We have never seen a house so conveniently arranged for business. Up stairs the Col. has the rooms admirably adapted for house keeping, all of which is well ventilated and furnished with gas. The two front rooms he uses himself, connected with which is a bath room, clothes press, &c., a water tank, rooms for his clerk, dining, cook, kitchen, laundry, &c. It is built of the very best material and by Taylor & Harrison who cannot be excelled as masons. The Col. is backed by a heavy capital, and is prepared to pay the highest market price for cotton and to sell what he has at the lowest. His house is full of all that families and farmers need in the grocery line, and it is worth while for those who need them to call on him before purchasing.

According to Piny fire was a long time unknown to the ancient Egyptians, and when Exodus (the celebrated astronomer) showed it them, they were absolutely in rapture. The Persians, Phoenicians, Greeks, and several other nations, acknowledged that their ancestors were once without the use of fire, and the Chinese confess the same of their progenitors. Pompaion, Moia, Plutarch, and other ancients, speak of nations who, at the time they wrote, knew not the use of fire, or had just learned it. Facts of the same kind are also attested by several modern nations. The inhabitants of the Marian Islands, which were discovered in 1551, had no idea of fire. Never was astonishment greater than theirs when they saw it on the desert of Magellan, in one of their islands. At first they believed it was some kind of an animal that fixed to and fed upon wood. The inhabitants of the Philippine and Canary Islands were formerly equally ignorant. Africa presents, even in our own day, nations in this deplorable state.

Simple Plan for Curing Pea-vine Hay.

Editors Southern Cultivator:—I see in your June number, under the head of "Inquiries and answers to Inquiries," your two plans for curing Pea-vine Hay. In some respects your plans are doubtless very good, but in others altogether, to my mind, impracticable. For instance, your "Rail Pea" plan requires the procuring of both rails and boards, to insure anything like success, before commencing to cure the hay; and that of hanging vines, on the bows of a tree top set in the ground, to say least of it, is attended with such labor and inconvenience in placing the tree top in position, as to render the undertaking almost out of the question. If by this article I can make myself understood, I will endeavor to give "Book Farmer," a simple plan for constructing pea-vine stacks, and the curing of hay, that will never fail of success, however rainy the weather may be or humid the atmosphere, if carefully pursued. In the first place, procure six posts, "green pine poles will answer," 8 feet long; bore in each post with a two inch auger three holes, two feet apart, beginning with the first hole four feet from the lower or ground end of each post, insert in the holes pine one foot long, made of hickory or other strong wood; lay off the stack 30 feet long by four feet wide. This will give three posts on each side of the stack in a straight line, 15 feet apart one way, by four feet the other; dig the holes two feet deep, and putting in the posts turn the pins to the inside. Next procure twelve poles, sixteen feet long, (medium size) place four of the poles on the lower row of pins, two on each side, lapped at the center post. The stack is then ready for the first layer of vines—commence stacking by grasping the root end of as many vines as a man can well bundle with both hands, throwing the vines across each pole if long enough to extend, leaving about one foot of vines at the root end on the outside of the pole; in this way, pass up and down alternately on one and then on the other side of the stack; if the vines are not long enough to reach across from one pole to the other, it makes no difference, as the space will soon fill up as the stacking progresses. When the space between the first and second row of pins is well filled, lay up four other side poles as in the first instance, being careful to keep the outside of the stack perpendicular, with the outer end of the vine about one foot outside the poles. In pulling up the vines and in carrying them to the stack, care should be taken to keep the roots compact and even. After filling to the third row of pins, placing on the last post, continue the stack in the same manner until nearly completed, when it will be necessary for the stacker to get on top and make a rounding shape to the top, so as to throw the water during rain fall, off at the sides of the stack. Green pea-vines stacked in this manner, will keep perfectly sound and sweet in the open field, until after the gathering of corn, and make hay far superior to any grass ever mowed, North, East or West. In this manner, I have succeeded for years in saving pea-vine hay perfectly sweet without mildew, or the loss of a pound by rot. QUITMAN.

Quitman, June 4, 1869.

Stacks may after the same manner be made any size, from ten to one hundred feet long.—Q.—Southern Cultivator.

THE BALTIMORE
PARLOR HEATERS,
COOKING STOVES,
COOKING RANGES,
HOT-AIR FURNACES, &c.
S. B. SEXTON'S CELEBRATED
PATENT BALTIMORE PARLOR HEATERS AND GAS BURNERS,

for Architects or Builders, have been in successful operation for the last ten years, and have proved to be the best Fire-place Heaters manufactured and put in operation. They are getting to be generally used, often in the place of furnaces, for heating the lower and upper rooms in dwellings and offices. Two or three Stoves heating the largest dwellings, and besides, are quite ORNAMENTAL and ILLUMINATING, having all the beauty and cheerfulness of an open grate fire, but are more economical, CLEANER, AND RADIATING A LARGER AMOUNT OF HEAT. We can refer to thousands of families who have them in use.
 We manufacture our own COOKING STOVES, and we guarantee them to be equal to any sold for baking and cooking. We have Stoves to take in long stoves, and will stand among the No. 1 Cook Stoves.
 Our Cooking Stoves are Baltimore made, and we guarantee the best and cheapest in the market.
 Baking of all kinds can be done in our Ranges as quickly and equally as well as in a Brick oven. We will manufacture S. B. SEXTON'S new patent Hot-Air Furnaces, warranted to burn from 30 to 70 hours with one filling.
 Thankful to our friends and the public for their past favors, we solicit a continuance of their patronage.

SCOTCH SNUFF
SCOTCH SNUFF
SCOTCH SNUFF

Has been fully tested and pronounced by all amateur smokers to be the best SNUFF now in use—its superior taste and pureness from all drugs and injurious ingredients, commonly used in the preparation of other snuffs, has gained it a wide world reputation.
 Do not fail to try it for you will like it.
 Ask for it and take no other and see that our name is on every package.

 Notice.—The high reputation that our snuff has attained has induced certain manufacturers to imitate our trade name, the superior quality of our snuff does not lay in the trade mark but the superior quality of tobacco it is manufactured of.
